1. One family is in need of a car, having lost theirs in an accident. If you have any leads on a vehicle, please email the church at cpclarksville@gmail.com, or contact Asa Stone.

Quotes and Notes

"In pride, there is always an element of falsehood. It is a claim to merits not possessed; or, if we possess them at all, we deceive ourselves and attempt to deceive others about the degree to which we possess them. We deny and ignore the claims of others, in order that our own may be pre-eminent. We hate those who estimate us exactly for what we are worth; and arrogance, in its extreme manifestations, demands that everyone suspend judgment and accept its self-estimate at the point of the sword. This falseness seems to me to be the distinctive mark of pride."

- James Stalker (1848-1929)

The Seven Deadly Sins

"James does not take away our free will but points out that everything we do is part of a wider plan which is governed by God's grace. Even if we are able to run around and get on with the business of this life, we must not attribute this ability to our own efforts but accept that we can do these things only by the blessing of God."

- Oecumenius (6th century)

Commentary on James

"These things which Christ threatened through the apostle should terrify us very much, but we should not despair of the mercy of God. Those of us who have been careless up to now can, with God's help, correct ourselves, provided that we are willing to dispense more generously those alms which have given sparingly to us."

- Caesarius of Arles (c. 470-542)

Sermons 199.5

"The path of the gospel is the path of humility, says James. There is a path to meekness and peace and a path of ambition and grasping. There is a way of peace or a way of striving. There is a way of repentance and conversion or a way of arrogance and pride. James bids us join him on the path of gospel humility."

- Dan Doriani

James

"A man's got to know his limitations."

- Clint Eastwood
