Quotes and Notes

"The fact is certain, but it lies beyond the region of human explanation. If, as you say, our account of the divine birth is a lie, then prove that this account of the Lord's entrance is a fiction. If we assume that an event did not happen because we cannot discover how it was done, we make the limits of our understanding into the limits of reality. But the certainty of the evidence proves the falsehood of our contradiction. The Lord did stand in a closed house in the midst of the disciples; the Son was born of the Father. Deny not that he stood, because your puny wits cannot ascertain how he came there; renounce instead a disbelief in God the only- begotten and perfect Son of God the unbegotten and perfect Father that is based only on the incapacity of sense and speech to comprehend."
- Hilary of Poitiers (310-368), On the Trinity 3:20

"The heart of the matter for the Christian is this: Jesus did not merely rise, he is alive. Alive and ready to be met by men, women or children who are willing to share their lives with him. That is not the common image of Christianity. God forgive us, we have smothered the risen Christ in denominationalism, ecclesiasticism, respectability, moralism and goodness knows what else. But that is the heart of authentic Christianity. Christians are the 'community of the resurrection!'"
- Michael Green, Christ Is Risen, So What?

"If Christ is not risen from the dead, the long course of God's redemptive acts to save his people ends in a dead-end street, in a tomb. If the resurrection of Christ is not reality, then we have no assurance that God is the living God, for death has the last word. Faith is futile because the object of faith has not vindicated himself as the Lord of life. Christian faith is then incarcerated in the tomb along with the final and highest self-revelation of God in Christ—if Christ is indeed dead."
- George Ladd (1911-1982), A Theology of the New Testament

"My question – that which at the age of fifty brought me to the verge of suicide – was the simplest of questions, lying in the soul of every man...a question without an answer to which one cannot live. It was: 'What will come of what I am doing today or tomorrow? What will come of my whole life? Why should I live, why wish for anything, or do anything?' It can also be expressed thus: Is there any meaning in my life that the inevitable death awaiting me does not destroy?"
-Leo Tolstoy (1828-1910), A Confession

We are really glad you could be with us this morning. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask our pastor or one of the elders. They would be glad to help you in any way they can. You can call or reach us at: www.clarksvillepca.org.
