Quotes and Notes

"The new is in the old concealed; the old is in the new revealed."

- Augustine of Hippo (354-430), On the Spirit and the Letter

"The concept of the covenant meal was not just for ancient Israel; it is the very concept Jesus employs when he establishes the Lord's Supper for members of the new covenant (cf. Luke 22:20 with Exodus. 24:8). Like the fellowship offering, the Lord's Supper serves as a time for believers to celebrate the redemption the Lord has won for them, in this instance through the sacrificial death of Jesus (cf. 1 Cor. 11:26). And like the fellowship offering, such remembrance propels believers to reaffirm their commitment to their covenant Lord and to their fellow covenant brothers and sisters (1 Cor. 10:17; cf. 11:20-22). Remembering the Lord's redemption is the spring from which a life of wholehearted faithfulness gratefully flows."

- Jay Sklar, Leviticus

"As we gather round this table

We remember and proclaim

Christ has died, Christ is risen

Christ will come again

There's nothing to fear and everything to gain

And so we gather here to remember

To remember and proclaim"

- Andrew Peterson, "Remember and Proclaim"

"Sacrament is from the Latin word sacramentum, meaning a holy rite in general and in particular a soldier's sacred oath of allegiance. Study of the rites themselves yields the concept of a sacrament as a ritual action instituted by Christ in which signs perceived through the senses set forth to us the grace of God in Christ and the blessings of his covenant. They communicate, seal, and confirm possession of those blessings to believers, who by responsively receiving the sacraments give expression to their faith and allegiance to God. The effect of receiving the sacraments is 'to put a visible difference between those that belong unto the church and the rest of the world, and solemnly to engage them to the service of God in Christ, according to his word' (Westminster Confession XXVII.1)."

- J. I. Packer (1926-2020), Concise Theology
