Quotes and Notes

"God's witness to the heavenly commentary concerning what God has done in Christ is not intended as an apocalyptic curiosity to tantalize the intellect but to inform Christians about how God wants them to live in the light of recent redemptive history. The book contains information for the mind, but it is information that entails ethical obligation."

-G.K. Beale, The Book of Revelation

"That the congregation was to [keep] the things written in the prophecy indicates that the work was considered to be moral instruction, not simply prediction. John viewed his work as prophetic literature on a par with the prophetic books of the OT and possessing an authority that required the obedient response of all believers. Although the beatitude is certainly true in a general sense, here it takes on special significance in view of the fact that 'the time is near'."

-Robert Mounce, The Book of Revelation

"The humans do not start from that direct perception of Him which we, unhappily, cannot avoid. They have never known that ghastly luminosity, that stabbing and searing glare which makes the background of permanent pain to our lives."

-C.S. Lewis, The Screwtape Letters
