Quotes and Notes

"The new is in the old concealed; the old is in the new revealed."

- Augustine of Hippo (354-430), On the Spirit and the Letter

"The priestly theology of the Old Testament appears to us at first glance as elitist and violent. Our worship experience is quite distant from the blood of numerous sacrifices performed by ornately dressed priests in a specifically designated holy place on certain consecrated days. On closer examination, though, we will gain profound theological insight and practical wisdom by studying these ancient priestly texts. Indeed, among many other things, we will come to a deeper appreciation and comprehension of the most important redemptive act of all, Jesus' death on the cross. After all, even a cursory reading of the Gospels and Epistles reveals that the significance of Jesus' death is painted in the colors of the tabernacle, priesthood, festivals, and sacrifices of the Old Testament."

- Tremper Longman, Immanuel in Our Place

"In general, (atonement) communicates two ideas: ransoming and purifying. On the one hand, sin or impurity puts the offeror at risk of the Lord's judgment. As a result, the offeror needs ransoming. On the other hand sin and impurity are defiling. As a result, the offeror also needs purifying...But in both instances, making atonement results in ransom from the Lord's judgment, as well as purification from sin and impurity."

- Jay Skylar, Leviticus

"There is a fountain filled with blood,
drawn from Immanuel's veins;
And sinners plunged beneath that flood,
lose all their guilty stains:
Lose all their guilty stains,
lose all their guilty stains;
And sinners plunged beneath that flood,
lose all their guilty stains;"

- William Cowper (1731-1800), "There is a Fountain"

"In the gospel, God honors every son and daughter who believes in him. The church is a family, not a club, and favoritism has no place in a family. When we love and receive all kinds of people, it shows that God's ways are becoming our ways, our God loves the poor. We emulate God's character and obey his will when we refuse to play favorites."

- Dan Doriani, James

"The law of liberty is the one which does not recognize classes of persons. This is the law of Christ. Whoever shows favoritism is not free but a slave, for 'A man is a slave to the one by whom he has been overcome'."

- Oecumenius (6th c), Commentary on James
