Quotes and Notes

"I chanced upon this sentence of St. Paul...in 1 Timothy 1...This one sentence, through God's instruction and inward working, which I did not then perceive, did so exhilarate my heart, being before wounded with the guilt of my sins, and being almost in despair, that even immediately I seemed unto myself inwardly to feel a marvellous comfort and quietness, insomuch that 'my bruised bones leaped for joy' (Psalm 51). After this, the Scripture began to be more pleasant unto me than the honey or the honey-comb"

-Thomas Bilney (1495-1531), English clergyman and martyr

"There was no reason for Christ the Lord to come, except to save sinners. Eliminate diseases, eliminate wounds, and there is no call for medicine. If a great doctor has come down from heaven, a great invalid must have been lying very sick throughout the whole wide world. This invalid is the whole human race."

-Augustine (354-430), Sermon 175.1

"We bring to mind how the holy apostle Paul recounts his transgressions and puts his soul in the last and nethermost place, saying, 'Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief.' ... When and at what time did he say this? After great struggles, after mighty works, after the preaching of the gospel of Christ which he proclaimed throughout the whole world, after continual deaths and manifold tribulations which he suffered from the Jews and from the heathen. Even then he saw himself as only making a beginning. He was of the opinion not merely that he had not yet attained to purity of soul but that he would not even number himself among the disciples of Christ, as was fitting."

-Isaac of Nineveh (c. 613 - c. 700), An Epistle to Abba Symeon of Caesarea
