"The spiritual life will always be a struggle. How can it be otherwise, when our flesh desires what is contrary to God's Spirit? We should not be surprised by sin, as if we expected God to make us perfect in this life. Nor should sin cause us to doubt our salvation. On the contrary, we are most aware of our sin when the Spirit is most active in fighting against our old adversary: sinful desire. Realize, too, that the war will not last forever. We are not fighting a losing battle. Nor will the struggle between the flesh and the Spirit end in a stalemate. One day the Spirit will gain total victory, and the flesh will torment us no longer."

- Philip Ryken, Galatians

"The Spirit works through means – through the objective means of grace, namely, biblical truth, prayer, fellowship, worship, and the Lord's Supper, and with them through the subjective means of grace whereby we open ourselves to change, namely, thinking, listening, questioning oneself, examining oneself, admonishing oneself, sharing what is in one's heart with others, and weighing any response they make."

- J. I. Packer, Keep in Step with the Spirit

"Whenever a person is brought into the kingdom of God, and becomes a child of God, the new lifestyle follows. While God works in and through the personalities we already have (strictly speaking, we do not receive a 'new nature'), he begins to mark those personalities with certain broad similarities. There are characteristic qualities of life shared by all of God's children; there is a certain family likeness which is always present. We expect this in any family."

- Sinclair Ferguson, Children of the Living God

"This victory is within reach of every Christian, for every Christian has 'crucified the flesh' and every Christian 'lives by the Spirit.' Our task is to take time each day to remember these truths about ourselves, and to live accordingly. If we have crucified the flesh (which we have), then we must leave it securely nailed to the cross, where it deserves to be; we must not finger the nails. And if we live in the Spirit (which we do), then we must walk by the Spirit."

- John Stott, Only One Way: The Message of Galatians

We are really glad you could be with us this morning. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask our pastor or one of the elders. They would be glad to help you in any way they can. You can call or reach us at: www.clarksvillepca.org.
